Pahokee Chamber of Commerce supports tax incentive plan

The Pahokee Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors met recently and gave their full support to the city commission waiving ad valorem taxes on a case-by-case basis for new businesses or the expansion of existing businesses.

The new business would have to generate a minimum of 25 new jobs to qualify. The existing businesses would have to generate a minimum of 10 new jobs to qualify. In addition, the buildings erected and the land would qualify for the exception which could be available for up to 10 years. Palm Beach County has such an opportunity available, meaning a company could have the county taxes waived also.

Since Pahokee has been designated an Enterprise Zone, new and existing businesses would qualify for other tax breaks, hopefully giving businesses an incentive for locating in Pahokee.

According to Chamber President James H. Brewer, "This issue would be good for business in Pahokee. We, the directors, encourage the voters to vote yes by purchasing #201."

Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce welcomes new executive director

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

Belle Glade Chamber Directors welcomed their new executive director, Danielle Penuel, during last week's monthly chamber breakfast.

Mrs. Penuel, 31, replaces Leigh Woodham, who has accepted the position of director for the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center in Belle Glade.

A Clewiston native, Mrs. Penuel now lives in Canal Point with her husband, Mike, and their two children, Ethan, 3, and Emily, 1.

She says she is excited about the challenge of working with the community as the new executive director and looks forward to meeting everyone.

"Filling Leigh's shoes will be a very big challenge, but that's why I was so interested in this job. I consider this a personal challenge."

Mrs. Penuel says she admires the work done at the chamber and hopes to build on the phenomenal membership growth experienced under Mrs. Woodham's leadership.

"I love the Glades and I look forward to being involved in the community," she says.

Mrs. Penuel has lived in the area since 1989. She currently lives in the house built by her father, Earl Carithers. He is a draftsman and was a vice president for the agriculture department of U.S. Sugar when he built the homes in Bryant.

Mrs. Penuel is a certified orthodontic assistant and has worked in that field as well as handled secretarial work. She said she will be relying on the expertise of long-time chamber office manager, Laura Mae Enfinger, to help her with the day-to-day running of the chamber.

Laura Mae has been with the chamber for four years and has already been invaluable to me," said Mrs. Penuel. "I'm happy she is staying on to help and I'm already enjoying working with her."

Mrs. Penuel's first day on the job was October 15. She will be assisting with the Chamber of Commerce annual Awards Banquet, which will be held tonight, Oct. 24, at 7 p.m. at the Belle Glade Elks Lodge.

Woodham resigns chamber, takes position at Dolly Hand Center

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

The job she's always wanted, and it took 11 years to get it. Now it's hers. Leigh Woodham says goodbye to members of the Chamber of Commerce tonight at the annual banquet, but she's not saying farewell to the community. She's just moving across town to take the position as director for the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center.

Mrs. Woodham said she watched as the director's position came open three times over the past decade and she always wanted to apply, "but I stayed home with my children until I took the job at the chamber," she said. This time, when the position opened up after former director Maria Wise Miller resigned to take a job on the coast, Mrs. Woodham said she was one of the first to apply.

The beauty of the center and the new addition are just a few of the things that appeal to Mrs. Woodham. Her love of the arts is her main reason for relishing the job. "I've always loved the arts. I've taken music lessons and I've always enjoyed going to the theater with my family."

Mrs. Woodham is credited for building the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce to an all-time membership high of over 300. During her tenure, she cultivated a cooperative effort with other chambers which has resulted in joint chamber mixers with the Pahokee and Palms West Chambers. She also collaborated on an Attractions to the Western Communities guide and began the tradition of honoring chamber members with a "Member of the Month" award during the monthly chamber breakfast.

While at the chamber she encouraged local artists to display their work at the chamber so the community could enjoy their artwork. Each month, an artist with the Glades Art Group, under the direction of Ann Tyler, displays several of their paintings in the meeting room of the chamber.

The Belle Glade and Pahokee Chambers now also coordinate a Glades Holiday Shop-a-Thon which she said has become very popular. This year, the event will be held on Saturday, Nov. 9.

Mrs. Woodham lives in Belle Glade with her husband, Brent, and three sons, Jeffrey, 11, David, 8 and Luke, 7.

Sugar Farmers achieve new phosphorus reduction; Water going to Everglades is now 72% cleaner, Water District says

The success of phosphorus reduction in farm water - part of sugar farmers' Everglades cleanup program - has reached 72%, according to a report by the South Florida Water Management District. This reduction, for the 12 month period ending June 30, makes the water leaving sugar farms nearly three times cleaner as much as 10 years sooner than required by law. A similar report by the District is April showed a 68% reduction.

"The continuing success sugar farmers are having in cleaning their water, on their own farms, using their own technology, is proof positive of their commitment to Everglades restoration," said Robert Baker, senior vice president of U.S. Sugar. "This progress suggests the existing plan for Everglades cleanup is well worth pursuing without the addition of new taxes as proposed on the Nov. 5 election ballot."

Baker was referring to Amendment 4 which would place an additional $900 million tax only on sugar farmers.

At the same time, the phosphorus reduction was announced, the Oct. 1996 Water Quality Conditions Quarterly Report from the Water Management District said the water quality in Everglades National Park and the Loxahatchee National Wildlife Refuge is at the levels mandated by the Florida Legislature's Everglades Forever Act as much as a decade ahead of schedule.

Under the Everglades Forever Act, farmers are required to reduce phosphorus in their runoff by 25% from the average amount recorded in the 10-year period between 1978 and 1988.

The sugar farmers achieved their water quality improvements by spending millions of

Misdiagnosis of Heart Attacks A Major Health Issue

(NU) - Breast cancer annually claims the lives of 48,000 women and in 1994, 38,500 people died from AIDS. The public is frequently reminded that AIDS and breast cancer are serious health issues. But someone forgot to mention that there is also another major health issue that is also life threatening ... misdiagnosed heart attacks.

Each year approximately 34,000 patients are released from hospitals with undetected, and often deadly, heart attacks. Diagnosing a heart attack is possible with a variety of methods, such as the electrocardiogram. But it has been estimated that in about 50 percent of patients suspected of suffering from a heart attack, an EKG will be inconclusive.

In addition, there are a number of patients experiencing minor heart damage. Minor damage, which has been clinically proven to be predictive of impending heart attacks, is much more difficult to diagnose.

The inability to rapidly and accurately diagnose damage can have a disastrous effect on a patient's life.

But a new test clinically proven to reduce the risk of misdiagnosis has recently been cleared by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

The CARDIAC T® Rapid Assay, from Boehringer Mannheim, is a hand-held disposable test used bed-

Of nearly 1 million patients with acute myocardial infarctions each year, studies indicate more than 30,000 are released undiagnosed.

side in the emergency room or in the critical care unit. This easy-to-use test can detect a protein specific to heart muscle, cardiac troponin T. Troponin T is not normally present in blood and is only released into the blood stream when the heart muscle is damaged, as occurs in a heart attack. A positive test result means heart damage has occurred and the physician should immediately initiate appropriate care.

Dr. Gerald

Murphy, president and chief executive officer of Boehringer

Mannheim said, "The most striking aspect of myocardial infarction diagnosis is that the time between recognition and confirmation of the event and the introduction of treatment is of great importance. The faster a marker can be detected in the blood stream, the faster it can be detected wherever the infarction occurred and the greater the chance of life-saving medical intervention."

This emergence of better diagnostic methods is especially important this year. From 1983 until 1993, deaths from cardiovascular disease declined 23.1 percent. But in 1993, deaths from CVD were again on the rise, claiming 954,138 U.S. lives, or 42.1 percent of all deaths. It is estimated that CVD will cost the United States more than $151.3 billion in health care costs in 1996.

Aching Back? Avoid Those Cushy Chairs

(NU) - Here's a quiz for people with back pain. What harms your aching back most — walking, standing, sitting or lying down?

Physical therapists at the Spine Institute in Clewiston, Fla., say sitting causes stress on the low back muscles than standing or lying down. Their advice: Avoid sitting as much as possible during the acute stage of an injury. Here are more suggestions.

- Don't sit for more than 15 or 20 minutes at a time in a low or deep chair. Instead, choose one with good support for your lower back or put a small pillow or rolled towel behind you.

- Reduce the stress of sitting by turning a chair around backwards and straddling the seat.

- Move to the edge of your chair before getting up. Florida Spine Institute is the nation's largest spine care center. For information, call 1-800-477-7746.

Better get out and vote

"I'm scared, and you should be too. The penny-a-pound tax is staring us in the face and it will not be a pretty sight."

If you are a registered voter, November 5 is not a time to sit at home and hope someone else votes down this terrible tax. Tuesday, November 5 is time to get up and go to the polls and vote NO to Amendment 4. Your livelihood and mine are at stake, and believe me, those who want to see farming die in the Glades will be out there in force voting for this tax that will put us all out of business.

The polls show that those who are in favor of this tax are more than those against, so let's get up off our duffs and make every one of our votes count.

I'm worried, and you should be too...worried enough to be sure to go to the polls November 5. Thank you."

Letters to Editor...

Thanks, but...

Dear Editor:

I would like to thank everyone who helped and contributed to the fund of Arden J. Silvers

A special "Thank You" to the Sisters of Mercy Community in Upper Sandusky, Ohio and the Shiloh Missionary Baptist Church in Pahokee who sang and donated, all the merchants of the Glades, and my family and friends who attended.

Thank you.

The family of Arden Silvers

P.S. I am disappointed in the Christian Community in the Glades. Of the 30 letters sent to the churches, we only go one response. Where are all the "so-called Christians" when you need them?

Just the facts - please!

Dear Editor:

There they go again. Paul Tudor Jones' SOE troops found some old footage of dead fish and the agriculture killing seasons declared to hold that balloon over Floridians in another $100,000 TV commercial to blame Lake Okeechobee sugar farmers for the kill.

The ad purports to deal in reality when in fact it doesn't. There is no location given where the fish were found (perhaps nobody knows) and there is no conceivable link between the dead fish and agriculture.

They ad claims sugar farmers killed the fish with mercury. There has never been so strong a concentration of the toxin that fish would die. There has never been a link between irrigation water and mercury. Red tide kills fish; but after decades of research and millions of dollars expended there has never been a link between farming and red tide.

While there are apparently no standards for TV stations to accept an ad, there should be some semblance of truth in what is portrayed.

Lincoln said you couldn't fool all of the people all of the time. The SOE's are counting on fooling enough of the voters to wipe out thousands of sugar farmers and their families with their egregious billion dollar tax amendment on the November ballot.

Tony Toulis
Clewiston

Vote "No" on Amendment 4

Dear Editor:

The TV ads say "Let the Polluters Pay." Sounds great. The problem is, the sugar farmers are doing more than anyone else to clean up the Everglades.

My job depends on the Florida sugar industry, and I'm glad that the sugar farmers are doing their part. However, if the environmental extremists pursue an agenda that only blames Florida agriculture, then the Everglades will never be safe or properly managed.

Under the Everglades Forever Act, our farm runoff is essentially cleaner than rain itself. Farmers have given up 60 square miles of productive farmland (that's more land than Miami and Ft. Lauderdale combined) so that giant filtration marshes could be established. Farmers were given a goal of cutting phosphorus levels by 25 percent. In just two years our levels by 68 percent. Beyond all of these actions, sugar cane remains one of the most environmentally friendly crops in the world. Do not condemn the farmers, be proud of them. We are doing more than our part. It is only coincidence that the environmental extremists do not seem to worry about the uncontrolled urban, and industrial growth surrounding the Everglades? Why is it that you can put a parking lot or mini-mall on the very edge of the Everglades without any thought of the consequences or without resultant cries from environmentalists who are playing golf nearby? What would be the consequence of sugar farmers going out of business and the land being taken over by development or less environmentally friendly crops?

Do not be misled by feel-good misconceptions without any basis in fact. Senator Bob Graham said it best: "The penny-a-pound tax is a tax source looking for a rationale." Support Florida sugar farmers and their successful efforts. Vote NO on Amendment 4.

Sincerely,
Karl Farris,
Clewiston

"MY WIFE NEVER LIES ABOUT HER AGE... SHE TELLS PEOPLE SHE'S AS OLD AS I AM... THEN LIES ABOUT MY AGE."

Governor Chiles proclaims World Population Awareness Week

Observing that the world's urban crises stemming from population density and activity are expected to be among the major challenges of the 21st Century, Governor Lawton Chiles has proclaimed October 27-November 2 as World Population Awareness Week (WAW) in the state of Florida.

The proclamation recognizes that by the turn of the century more than half of the world's population will live in densely populated urban cities and that urban population alone will grow by 93 million per year.

Governor Chiles says that this unprecedented

geeing of cities provides opportunities, but also portends enormous risk that could intensify poverty, pollution, disease, social disintegration,

violence, human misery."

Gov. Chiles points out that urban poverty is already as high as 60 percent in some metropolitan areas and more than one-third of the urban population have substandard housing.

The proclamation also acknowledges that rapid population has spawned a number of common problems in all regions of the world - north and south, rich and poor, including unemployment, a shortage of adequate housing, traffic congestion, declining infrastructure, and lack of funds to provide for basic services.

Gov. Chiles urges citizens of Florida to "reflect on the consequences of rapid urbanization and rapid population growth and the vital necessity of balancing human numbers, environment and resources to improve the quality of life for the world and its people."

Gov. Chiles points out that urban poverty is already as stated. "There can be neither prevention of environmental degradation nor the realization of sustainable development until there is considerable progress in reducing population growth and in reversing current consumption and production patterns." The Population Institute has been the chief sponsor of World Population Awareness Week since its inception in 1985.

More than 250 organizations in the U.S. and worldwide have joined in co-sponsoring World Population Awareness Week.

These organizations include the National Wildlife Federation, United Nations Population Fund, Worldwatch Institute, International Planned Parenthood Federation, the American Association of University Women, and the Sierra Club.

October is designated as Brain Injury Awareness Month

By Charles J. Micciche

Executive Director

Center For Independent Living of Southwest Florida

To create further awareness of the life-long consequences and costs of brain injury, Governor Lawton Chiles has designated October as Brain Injury Awareness Month. Currently, the cost of brain injuries in the United States is estimated at $48.3 billion annually, most of which is paid for by taxpayers through Medicare and Medicaid. Individual costs can exceed $6 million during a lifetime.

There is no cure for brain injury - there is only prevention, for which reason the Brain Injury Association of Florida (BIAF) actively supported the Bicycle Helmet Act, which Governor Chiles signed into law, effective January 1, 1997. The law requires all children 15 years old and younger to wear an ANSI or Snell standard-tested helmet when riding, and also applies to child passengers in bicycle seats or carriers. The proper use of a helmet when biking, in-line skating, or skateboarding reduces the incidence of brain injury by more than forty-five percent.

Brain injury is called the Silent Epidemic. It is the leading cause of death for Americans under age 45, claiming more than 56,000 American lives annually, and hospitalizing an additional 373,000. Of these, 99,000 individuals sus-tain moderate to severe injuries resulting in life-long disabling conditions. In Florida alone, approximately 20,000 to 25,000 people sustain a brain injury each year, or an average of 60 such injuries every day. Vehicle crashes, violence, falls, and sports are the leading causes of brain injury. It can happen to anyone at any time and at any age.

Thankfully, 1996 was a successful year for the brain injury community. For the first time in history, legislation specific to brain injury was passed by Congress and signed into law by the president.

The July 1996 ceremonial signing of the Traumatic Brain Injury Act is significant to persons with brain injuries and their families, since it gives them hope that more productive and informative research will be conducted and the lives of many more people with brain injuries will be improved and saved. Brain injury research and the development of new neurological technologies are presently the least funded among government programs in the medical field. With the advent of new computerized technology, many advancements will continue to be made to improve the lives of persons with traumatic brain injuries.

For more information about brain injury and about prevention programs, contact BIAF at 1-800-999-2442, or contact the Center for Independent Living in Fort Myers at 277-1447.

Glades Day School's Gator Tales

Brrrrrrr!

Did you feel it? South Floridians got a taste of cool weather this week when a cold front pushed its way down from the north. Thankfully, that cold front was responsible for sparing us a direct hit from Hurricane Josephine also! Let's just hope the cool temperatures hang around through Saturday, when GDS holds its annual Fall Festival, beginning at 5 p.m.

Coming off a 35-14 win over Lake Placid, the varsity football players and coaches are making some serious preparations for this week's district showdown with Ft. Lauderdale Westminster.

ster in what will probably be the deciding factor for the district championship. A pep rally will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in the Main Campus gym to help get the boys psyched up (as if they needed it!). Both teams are undefeated in district play and ranked in the state 2A polls. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

We congratulate the junior high volleyball team, who avenged an earlier season loss to Summit Christian with an exciting three-set victory over the Saints last Monday. They finished the year with a 12-2 record, the only other loss being against LaBelle Middle. Their chance to get even was spoiled due to cancellation of the second scheduled match because of stormy weather (Hurricane Josephine did get one parting shot!) Congratulations on a great season girls!

The JV and varsity volleyball girls will end their regular season play this week and then Glades Day will host the Varsity District 7, 2A, tournament next week in the West Campus gym. There should be some exciting action with Benjamin, King's Academy and GDS all ranked in the state poll. Games will begin Monday with matches between St. Neumann and Ft. Lauderdale Westminster at 5 p.m. and Benjamin and American Heritage at 6 p.m. The Lady Gators are ranked #1 in their class and will face Ft. Lauderdale University Tuesday at 6 p.m. The winner will face either King's Academy or Moore Haven on Thursday. Admission to the games is $4 for everyone. Come on out and support the girls!

- Below is a list of how the proposed amendments will read on the ballot in the November 5th election

Nov. 5

Proposed amendments to the Florida Constitution

Yes 1 TAX LIMITATION: SHOULD AN VOTE BE REQUIRED FOR NEW CONSTITUTIONALLY IMPOSED STATE TAXES/FEE? Adds new Sec. 7 to Art. XI prohibiting imposition of new state taxes or fees by constitutional amendment on or after Nov. 8, 1994, unless approved by 2/3 of the voters voting in the election. Defines "new state taxes or fees" as revenue subject to appropriation by state Legislature, which tax/fee was not in effect on Nov. 7, 1994. Applies to proposed amendments on Nov. 8, 1994 ballot and those on later ballots. (legislative)

Yes 2 CONSTITUTION REVISION COMMISSION: CONVENING; DUTIES WITH RESPECT TO TAXATION

No XI, Sec. 2 by changes from 1993 to 1997 the commission of the new Constitution Revision Commission, as previously established by Florida Supreme Court. Removes restriction on commission's authority to examine matters relating to taxation or state budgetary process that are otherwise to be reviewed by Taxation and Budgetary Reform Commission every 10 years. (legislative)

Yes 3 JUDICIARY. Amends Art. V, Sec. 11, 12 to allow judicial nominating commissions to recommend from three up to six persons to fill a court vacancy; and to restructure the Judicial Qualifications Commission and permit additional sanctions for judicial misconduct. (legislative)

Yes 4 FEE ON EVERGLADES SUGAR PRODUCTION. Amends Art. VII, Sec. 9 to provide that the South Florida Water Management District shall levy an Everglades Sugar Fee of 1 cent per pound on raw sugar grown in the Everglades Agricultural Area to raise funds to be used, consistent with statutory law, for protection, conservation and production of natural resources and abatement of water pollution in the Everglades. The fee is imposed for 25 years. (initiative)

Yes 5 RESPONSIBILITY FOR PAYING COSTS OF WATER POLLUTION IN ESTATEMENT IN THE EVERGLADES. Amends Art. II, Sec. 7. The Constitution currently provides the authority for the statement of water pollution. This proposal adds a provision to provide that those in the Everglades Agricultural Area who cause water pollution within that Area or the Everglades Protection Area shall be primarily responsible for paying the costs of the abatement of that pollution. (initiative)

Yes 6 EVERGLADES TRUST FUND: Amends Art. X, Sec. 17 to establish an Everglades Trust Fund to be administered by the South Florida Water Management District for purposes of conservation and protection of natural resources and abatement of water pollution in the Everglades. Dr. G. Tony Tate named PBCC Interim President

The Palm Beach Community College (PBCC) District Board of Trustees named PBCC Vice President of Administration and Business Affairs Dr. G. Tony Tate as interim president at the Oct. 9 meeting of the Board. Tate will assume the full responsibilities of president effective January 1, 1997.

Tate has been employed by PBCC since 1958 when he joined the College as an instructor of health and physical education, with the added responsibility for PBCC's recreation and intramural program. In 1961, he was named to his first administrative post as assistant director of services, and in 1968, he was named director of services.

In 1970, Tate was appointed dean of business affairs, and in 1978, he became vice president of business affairs. In 1987, he assumed the position of vice president of administration and business affairs.

Tate was the recipient of the Region XII Outstanding Business Officer Award from the National Council of Community College Business Officers in 1989, and was inducted into the PBCC Walk of Fame in 1993.

Tate has long been a strong advocate for handicapped access, and under his leadership, PBCC was one of the first community colleges in the state to comply with the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

During his tenure with the College, Tate has been credited with PBCC's growth in both student enrollment and facilities construction, including the expansion from one to four campuses throughout Palm Beach County.

Variety Club of the Palm Beaches host Boys & Girls Club members at Lion Country Safari

The Variety Club of the Palm Beaches was host to 150 Boys & Girls Club members from eight different sites for a fun-filled day at Lion Country Safari on Friday, Oct. 18, during their school holiday. A pizza lunch was provided, courtesy of the Variety Club.

During the day, children had the opportunity to observe wild animals from a distance of one car length, learn about their natural habitats, and enjoy the camaraderie of being with fellow club members. In addition, a narrated boat tour, miniature golfing, animal demonstrations and feedings, paddle-boats, photo booth and petting zoo are also available.

Arlene Baskin, president of the Variety Club said, "The Variety Club works with underprivileged and latchkey kids and affords them an opportunity to see various attractions in Palm Beach County that would otherwise be impossible. We serve over 18 agencies and the Boys & Girls Club is one of our largest." This is the eighth year the Variety Club has been taking the children to Lion Country Safari.

For more information on the Variety Club or their trip to Lion Country Safari, please call Arlene at (561) 586-7123. For information on the Boys and Girls Club, please call (561) 683-3287.

Prepaid College Program enrollment period begins Oct. 21

The Florida Prepaid College Program will begin its 1996 enrollment period on Monday, Oct. 21, for prepaid college contracts, guaranteeing the cost of Florida's college tuition and dormitory fees at the time of college enrollment.

"The Program offers an out-of-state option," stated Stanley Tate, Chairman of the Florida Prepaid College Program Board.

This option gives the participants of the Program greater flexibility. For instance, if a child decides to enroll in an out-of-state college or university, the program will transfer either an amount equaling the value of state tuition or the original purchase price plus five percent interest, compounded annually, whichever is less," Tate continued.

Since the Program began in 1984, over 375,000 contracts have been sold, making this the most successful program of its kind in the United States.

The Program allows parents, grandparents, relatives and others to prepay a child's tuition at one of Florida's ten state universities (Florida Gulf Coast University is scheduled to open in 1997). First Union National Bank of Florida is the exclusive marketing and distribution agent for the Program. Applications, brochures and information concerning the Program can be obtained at any First Union office in Florida. A toll-free telephone number, 1-800-552-GRAD, prompt 1, has also been set up to answer questions or to have a brochure mailed.

Farm Bureau to sponsor Safety Day Camp Oct. 26

Florida Farm Bureau will sponsor a Safety Day Camp Oct. 26 at the Alachua County Extension Office, 2800 N.E. 39th Avenue, Gainesville. The camp is open to all children in grades 3-8.

"Agriculture is unquestionably THE most dangerous industry," said Dennis Emerson, director of field services. "We are particularly concerned for our youngsters who are in and around farm equipment on a day-to-day basis."

Cost is $4.00 per participant. Lunch will be provided courtesy of the Alachua County Farm Bureau. Parents should enroll children no later than Oct. 24, by calling the Farm Bureau Field Services Division, 352/378-8100, Extension 303.

Florida Farm Bureau Federation, headquartered in Gainesville, is the state's largest general interest agricultural organization. It has more than 120,000 member families.

Tomato agreement will help assure fair markets: Farm Bureau

An agreement that suspends the U.S. Commerce Department's investigation into Mexican tomato imports will go a long way toward assuring Florida tomato growers that there will be a viable market for their products, according to the president of Florida's largest general interest agricultural organization. The proposed agreement was initiated today by the Commerce Department and representatives of Mexican tomato producers.

Carl B. Loop, Jr., president of the Florida Farm Bureau Federation and vice president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said the pact assures a fair marketing environment for U.S. Tomato producers.

"It means our tomato growers can plant for the winter season with a degree of confidence that they will receive a fair price," Loop said. "Consumers also stand to benefit. Prices at the retail markets will be more stable this season as a result of this agreement."

The five-year agreement sets a minimum imported price of 20.68 cents per pound for tomatoes entering the United States. Only greenhouse cocktail tomatoes are exempt from the agreement. The commerce department said the agreement provides that Mexican growers will eliminate substantially all of the dumping future imports of Mexican tomatoes. "Dumping" means the sale of products at a price that is less than production costs. The Commerce Department said it would adopt strong measures to ensure effective enforcement and prevent circumvention. The Department can terminate the agreement if it determines that the terms have been violated.

Loop said the agreement, the first of its kind, might serve as a model for future marketing accords on other vegetable commodities. "Much work remains to be done to provide a fair marketing environment for domestic producers and consistent quality and pricing for U.S. consumers," Loop said.

The Florida Department of Agriculture and seven organizations - including Florida Farm Bureau - representing U.S. tomato growers filed an anti-dumping petition this spring following a season in which the farm price for a standard box of large tomatoes from Mexico often was below the cost of production for both U.S. and Mexican producers.

Local couple working to fight Amendment 4 speaks on Penny-A-Pound Tax

Part II, Part III and Part IV, continued from last week's Oct. 17 edition of The Sun.

Roger and Denise Hatton were the keynote speakers Oct. 10, at the Farm Bureau Federation's annual banquet.

Part II

Mrs. Hatton spoke on the issue of the proposed constitution amendment to tax sugar farmers in the Everglades Agricultural Area a penny-per-pound on raw sugar grown on their farms.

In this second part, we continue with Mrs. Hatton's talk to the Farm Bureau members on the problems and how they came about...

"So, some of this is not new, so what is the problem then?"

"Because we had the drying of the land so we could farm, it affected the entire water system south of Lake Okeechobee. Historically, water flowed south from the Kissimmee Basin, eventually reaching the Everglades and some flowed out into the Atlantic Ocean. Now, in order to keep South Florida's homes and businesses dry we have sent about two-and-a-half times as much water out into the Atlantic Ocean instead of it flowing south to the Everglades."

"This affected what they call the hydro-period. The hydro-period is the timing and the amount of the flow into the Everglades."

"Scientists agree that it is this hydro-period that is affecting the Everglades ecosystem the most."

There are solutions to the problem. Like anything, there is a right way and a wrong way. The wrong way happens when judgements are based on misperceptions rather than fact. So what I would like to start with is to dispel for you some of the myths. The first is that the farmers are solely to blame for the problems in the Everglades.

"The first issue is that Everglades National Park is receiving very high quality water. Contrary to popular belief, farmers do not discharge directly into Everglades National Park. Our water enters the water conservation area some 50 miles north of Everglades National Park."

"Additionally, we do the best that we can to make sure that all of our discharge contains the lowest phosphorus levels possible. Last year, South Florida Water Management District, which does all the testing, noted that phosphorus levels in farm run-off were down 68 percent. I would like you to know that their goal was 25 percent reduction. That is what we were required to do - was drop it by 25 percent. Actually, it dropped 68 percent. The farmers are doing what they can to drop it even more, which I will mention later."

"Phosphorus is an essential nutrient needed for every living thing," she told the audience. She then showed a slide that showed some of the things in the average home that contain phosphorus. They included Perrier water, Raisin Bran, Cheerios, and other food products. She then continued.

"A one-cup serving of Raisin Bran contains 20 percent of the recommended daily value of phosphorus that a person needs."

"In the Everglades however, we monitor and we explain the phosphorus in parts per billion. One part per billion is the same as one drop of water in an oversized home swimming pool. To give you further perspective on phosphorus levels, the municipal wastewater treatment plant in South Florida discharges phosphorus at the rate of about 1,000 parts of phosphorus per billion. The lawn around your home has about 450 parts per billion. The streets in front of your house have a run-off rate of about 300 parts per billion.

"Even our detractors agree that sugar cane is the most environmentally friendly crop grown in the Everglades Agricultural Area, with a discharge rate of 120 parts per billion. I would like you to know that rate was prior to the different practices being implemented now. That rate has dropped from there. That rate is actually 100 or below."

"A second myth is that the farmers are taking water away from the Everglades. When, in reality, we provide significantly more water for Everglades National Park than if we were an undeveloped area. In fact the EAA is the only significant source of water for the Everglades, with 173 billion gallons annually that goes into the Everglades. This also helps to recharge the well fields in South Florida for the urban use."

"However, based on the myth that the farmers are to blame, they say tax us more and take our land away. But, this will only result in the loss of tens of thousands of jobs. It will cost the state and local governments millions of dollars in taxes. And, it is morally wrong."

"It's as if the federal government went to every homeowner in the Everglades and said, 'Because you live here, you are polluting the environment and you are disrupting nature. The fact that you need to pump to keep your land dry is also disruptive to the environment. Therefore, we, the government, are going to tax you $10,000 a year. In the 10th year, we are going to take the money and buy your land. You are going to have to move and find another place to live because you are disrupting the environment.'

"The extreme plan of more government and more taxes will only hurt Florida and cost lots of jobs. It's just not necessary. The last thing we need is another $3 billion dollar government boondoggle that will only result in a loss of an industry which economically benefits the state. It will cause the collapse of many cities that depend on sugar farming and it will also eventually result in extra taxes for the rest of the Floridians."

"The farmers do have a role in the Everglades cleanup. But, we are doing our part. In the last two years, since the Everglades Forever Act was put into place, the results have exceeded their wildest expectations. We believe we need to give it a chance to work."

"I would like to leave you with three thoughts. No new taxes are needed to improve or restore the existing Everglades."

"Sugar farmers are doing their share through the Everglades Forever Act."

"We need to allow the Everglades Forever Act a chance to work before a punitive tax is levied on sugar farmers and families like mine who depend on sugar farming for their living."

"The Everglades and agriculture can co-exist," she concluded.

encouraged them to get into sugar farming because the country had completely lost their supply of sugar when the Communists took over in Cuba.

He noted that U.S. Sugar is sometimes referred to as "big sugar" and it had been in business since the 1920's around the lake, so it was bigger and did own a lot of land."

"You need to clarify the perception that sugar is getting government subsidies," said another audience member.

Roger Hatton said the sugar program's main effect is to guarantee a stable sugar price to the consumer. It is a consumer-weighted program rather than a farmer-weighted program.

"That's basically what they are trying to tell us right now. I hope you will agree that this is absurd, it's insane, it's unnecessary and it's extremely expensive. This is what this penny-a-pound tax would do."

"Let me go into that. First of all, when they tax the sugar farmers the billion dollars they want to do, who do you think will be left to pay for the environmental extremists' plans? You and I and any other property owner in the state of Florida will be left holding the bag. They also help to recharge the well fields in South Florida for the urban use."

"However, based on the myth that the farmers are to blame, they say tax us more and take our land away. But, this will only result in the loss of tens of thousands of jobs. It will cost the state and local governments millions of dollars in taxes. And, it is morally wrong."

"Let me ask you this. Even if they collect the money, how do we know it will actually be spent on Everglades cleanup? Or will it be misappropriated like the lottery money that was supposed to be used to improve education?"

"There's also a right way to restore the Everglades and it's happening right now. In 1994, the Everglades Forever Act was put into place to help improve water quality and to increase the amount of water flowing into the Everglades. The State of Florida, the U.S. government, and the farmers agreed to pay 100 percent of the cost of treating our own wastewater run-off. We are already paying an additional $320 million in taxes to pay for the construction of 40,000 acres of filtration marshes."

"In addition, the Everglades Forever Act guarantees 28 percent more water for the Everglades. They are going to do this and, in addition to guaranteeing that much water, it is also planning to correct the flow patterns of the water. This is a result of trying to change the current government system. We farmers are spending tens of thousands of dollars on our own in improving our farming practices. We have already implemented new water management practices, such as cleaning the canals, recycle the nutrients to adjacent fields, and innovative changes to the fertilizers in our fields. We have made these changes and many others and will work in conjunction with the filtration marshes to meet the water quality goals."

"It's also important to know that the federal government has made available an additional $200 million for Everglades cleanup. We farmers are living up to our obligations. We are paying extra taxes. We are meeting our on-farm water quality goals. We are already giving up land for the new filtration marshes."

"Because of this, the Everglades is doing better. There is more water. There is more wading birds. There is less phosphorus. We believe this is good news."

"Federal and state officials, environmental experts and the farmers are working together to help restore the Everglades. We believe we need to give the Everglades Forever Act a chance to work."

"The extreme plan of more government and more taxes will only hurt Florida and cost lots of jobs. It's just not necessary. The last thing we need is another $3 billion dollar government boondoggle that will only result in a loss of an industry which economically benefits the state. It will cause the collapse of many cities that depend on sugar farming and it will also eventually result in extra taxes for the rest of the Floridians."

"The farmers do have a role in the Everglades cleanup. But, we are doing our part. In the last two years, since the Everglades Forever Act was put into place, the results have exceeded their wildest expectations. We believe we need to give it a chance to work."

"I would like to leave you with three thoughts. No new taxes are needed to improve or restore the existing Everglades."

"Sugar farmers are doing their share through the Everglades Forever Act."

"We need to allow the Everglades Forever Act a chance to work before a punitive tax is levied on sugar farmers and families like mine who depend on sugar farming for their living."

"The Everglades and agriculture can co-exist," she concluded.

Part IV

In part four, Mrs. Hatton spoke on the issue of the proposed constitution amendment to tax sugar farmers in the Everglades Agricultural Area only a penny-per-pound on the raw sugar grown on their farms.

Bob Butler asked Mrs. Hatton if there was any other amendment in the Constitution like this proposed amendment that will tax individuals.

She said that it was her understanding this is the first ever Constitutional amendment that would actually impose a tax.

She said the main problem is when something is put in as a Constitutional amendment, the only way it can be changed is by an additional Constitutional amendment and that makes it very difficult to change.

A member of the audience asked what percentage of the sugar cane farmers in the Everglades Agricultural Area is considered to be "big sugar" and what percentage are small to medium-sized farmers.

Roger Hatton responded by saying that sugar farming by nature is big farming. He said this does not lend itself to five-, 10-, and 20-acre plots. He said that it is long-range planning in that it is a five to 10-year harvest cycle. He said you plant the cane and harvest it annually for five to 10 years. As far as big farming, it is a relative term. He said he farms 2,000 acres of sugar cane along with other products and he said he is not considered big in sugar cane farming.

The Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida is a farmer-owned cooperative consisting of 57 small to medium-sized family farms such as the Hattons.

He said there are two companies, one of which was in the sugar cane business before Castro took over in Cuba in 1958. He said that, at that time, the U.S. government came down to the Florida farmers, many of whom were in the cattle and row crop business, and another audience member then asked Mr. Hatton what that penny-a-pound tax would mean to him personally, as far as his profits are concerned.

Mr. Hatton said that for several years, he has received about 20 cents per pound at the production level. He said that the one cent is 5 percent of his gross sales. He said that with any other business, if you know your revenue is not going up, but your costs and overhead keep increasing, to have to pay 5 percent of those gross revenues can be devastating.

He said that based on what he grew last year that would be about $110 per acre and that would be a sizeable portion of his profits. He said that depending on the yield and the profitability of a particular year's crop, the tax could mean 30 to 60 percent of the net profits.

"How much difference could it really make to tack on the extra penny, and why wouldn't it be passed on to the consumer?"

Denise Hatton explained the one-cent tax cannot be tacked on the price to the consumer and she explained why. The tax as proposed is imposed on just the farmers in the Everglades Agricultural Area. The farmer sells that raw sugar to the sugar mill for processing and they sell it to the refineries. The refineries are buying sugar cane from all over the United States. If they are buying refined sugar in Louisiana cheaper than from Florida, they will buy the Louisiana sugar.

The tax is putting the EAA sugar farmers at a disadvantage. The point is that the farmer cannot tell the mill they have to have another penny and expect the mill to pass it on at the other end, she said.

Roger said there are 27 other states besides Florida which produce sugar from cane, corn, and beets.

He said the few farmers in the EAA will be taxed when they sell any one in any other part of the country will be paying the tax.

He said it also caps the amount they can receive for the sugar.

P.B. Garden Gators had no luck in the Glade Central Raider's muck Friday night, Raiders shut out Gators 35-0

Despite the rains and scoreboard difficulties in the first quarter, the Glades Central Raiders shut out the Palm Beach Garden Gators Friday night, Oct. 18.

The scoreboard was out so the time play during the first quarter was unavailable.

Playing great defense, the Raiders scored early in the first quarter making the score 7-0.

Raider quarterback #17 Brad Banks was sacked during the first quarter and the Raiders also picked up a dead ball foul. The touchdown play was a pass to #3 Dan Bythewood for six points and the kick was good. At the end of the first quarter the score was Raiders 7, Palm Beach Garden 0.

Players and fans faced a sprinkle of rain in the second quarter but that did not stop the Raiders drive forward.

Raider QB Banks ran the ball on the first play to get the first down himself for the Raiders.

Following, Banks handed off to #4 Andre Bryant for a yard. Then Banks ran the ball just inside the 10 yard line.

Then, Banks passed to #24 Daniel Brown but it ended incomplete and the Raiders called a time out.

The following play resulted in a pass from Banks to #25 Mike Alford who scored a touchdown. This touchdown gave Banks his seventh touchdown pass of the season. The extra point was good with 10:28 remaining, Raiders leading on the scoreboard 14-0.

The Raiders kicked off to the Gators, but 37 seconds later, #10 Utwan Cooper picked up a Gator fumble and carried into the endzone for a touchdown.

There was a Gator penalty after the Raider kick so #8 QB Faide Musallet went for a two point conversion, making the score 22-0 with 10:16 remaining on the clock in the second quarter.

#25 Mike Alford advanced four yards which put the Raiders at the 47 yard line. #44 Curtis Allen was injured and had to sit out for one play, he was replaced with #44.

Banks passed to A. Bryant for the first down, then Banks passed to #33 Arthur Brown for a first down and 10 with 6:49 remaining in the second half. The Raiders kicked to the Gators leaving them 2:27 left to play in the second quarter.

The Raiders offense locked good. #15 Dwight Jackson tipped a Gator ball in the air but the Gator's kept possession.

The Raider's ended the second quarter winning 22-0.

The second quarter went faster than usual, the Raider hand dressed for the weather in their jeans and t-shirts. All Raiders Homecoming festivities were rescheduled for Nov. 8.

With 11:51 on the clock, Banks passed to #4 A. Bryant for a first down; Banks then passed to #80 Andra Harriett who caught and carried the ball to the 20 yard line, setting the Raiders up to score.

Banks then handed off to #33 Arthur Brown who ran 20 yards for the touchdown but there was a holding penalty for a 15 yard loss.

Banks to Harriett who made it to the 17 yard line, Banks to A. Brown who was tackled short, Banks to A. Bryant for the touchdown. The kick was good which made the score 29-0 Raiders, with 7:47 left on the clock in the 3rd quarter.

The Gators fumbled with 5:30 remaining in the third quarter and the Raiders picked it up.

#8 QB Faide Musallet came into the game, giving #17 Brad Banks a rest for the last part of the game. Musallet ran the ball one yard for a touchdown with 1:13 remaining on the clock in the third quarter. The kick failed, making the score 35-0 Raiders.

The fourth quarter introduced the Palm Beach Garden Gators to their second first down in the night.

Raider #6 Walter Brown almost had an interception, it went through his hands. The Gators fumbled and recovered the ball with 11:00 remaining on the clock.

The fourth quarter had no scoring to report but #19 Terrance Sims intercepted the football with 23 remaining in the game.

The final score was Raiders 35, Gators

0. Last year, the Raiders defeated the Palm Beach Garden Gators 20-0.

Next week the Raiders will face a district rival, the Clewiston Tigers.

"Under the conditions we played in, our team did an excellent job. We are a young team and are gaining experience. Clewiston will be a test. Clewiston fans will be at the stadium to support their team and we need our fans in the community to go to the game in support of the Raiders," said Raider Head Coach Milton Watson.

The game will be played in the Tiger's Den, Clewiston, at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 25.

Anjeanette Gilbert, formerly of Belle Glade, plays for Kentucky Lady Racers team.

"When I came here, I liked the people and felt comfortable," Gilbert said. "Coach Eddie Fields called me and talked to my family and I liked that."

Gilbert is a senior organizational communications major. In addition to playing basketball and volleyball, she is a member of Sigma Gamma Rho sorority and of Regents Residential College.

She credits her high school coach with motivating her to do her best on the court.

"I really want to thank Coach Graham Frost because he helped me," she said. "At first, I didn't want to play and then I grew to love it. I am even thinking about pro basketball."

Gilbert emphasized that playing basketball is comparable to having a job. "You have to go out there and play," she said. "I try to motivate everyone on the team." The Lady Racers will open the season Nov. 23 at Southern Illinois.

The Gators host the LaBelle Cowboys at 7 p.m. tonight.

Gator fans come out and support your Junior Varsity Gator football team.

The Gator offense was once again unstoppable with 322 yards in total.

55 rushing and 67 passing. Jimmy Dobson led all rushers with 116 yards on 12 carries and a touchdown. Prescott had an outstanding day on offense with 101 yards on the ground on seven carries and a touchdown. James Holman haulied in two passes for 67 yards and two touchdowns.
